Dear Peter,

Shortly after you phoned several nights ago Robert called.

We had a pleasant conversation that had nothing to do with your call or what we discussed.

It may have been no more than coincidence, but this is the only call I've had from Robert in some time.

What is between you and him is between you and him. However, I do want you to understand that if you asked him to discuss anything we discussed with me he did not.

Nothing is changed from what we discussed.

I realize there may be no connection. However, I also want there to be no basis for any misunderstanding.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
